Moray Hayman

Moray Grew up in Knighton, Powys. She has two daughters, who have been educated at Bedstone since 2013. She now lives in Shropshire, just outside the beautiful hamlet of Broome.

Moray has been working in Palliative care since 2005, specialising in Community specialist support services and Oncology. For the Past 12 years she has been working for Macmillan Cancer Support as an oncology specialist. Moray is educated to degree level with a passion for health care services and management, as well as an interest in Early Years Education. Moray is committed to rural services and supporting mental health.

For the past six years she has been incredibly impressed by the ethos of the school and the Bedstone 'family' approach. Bedstone is a big part of Moray and her Husband Darren's family life. Moray became a Governor as she is passionate about maintaining high educational standards at Bedstone both now and in the future. She looks forward to sharing her enthusiasm for the school with communities in the local area.
